A CLASSIFICATION OF CRANIO FACIO - CERVICAL - CLEFTS [Anterior And Posterior] proposed by Professor S. A. Subramani, Head, Department of Plastic Surgery, Vydehi Institute of Medical Sciences & Research Center, Whitefield, Bangalore, was accepted for presentation at the Bell Session of British Plastic Reconstructive and Aesthetic Surgeons' Summer Scientific Meeting, Oxford 6th to 8th July 2011.

Uniqueness of this classification is that the Oral cavity is the central point of reference for all anterior cranio-facio-cervical Clefts. Thus there are 15 Numbers located which run in radial direction extending from Oral cavity superiorly to the vertex, laterally to the external ear and inferiorly to the manubrium Sterum. The right sided Clefts run in the anticlock wise direction and the left sided clefts run in the clockwise direction. The Four Branchial Cleft Anomalies, the Posterior Cranial [Cranioschisis] and the Cervical [Rachischisis] Clefts are also included in this Classification. The Soft Tissue And the skeletal Clefts are described separately.

Full Paper is available at <http://www.bioline.org.br/pdf?pl05018>
